To whom it may concern,

It is time to leave Microsoft alone to do it's great work for the good of both the nation and the world. This company has compromised fully and I'm sure way beyond what it feels is fair. It is obvious that they are just worn out and want it to end at any cost.

Again, please advise all these enemies of Microsoft to stop this war for the good of the consumer and the right to innovate!

I love all of their products and just want more.

Very respectfully,

Tim Ambrose,
